

Ageing Agent

Complete the text with the correct prepositions!

Greetings, M,

I know you're not fond ____ (1) long introductions, so let me get straight ____ (2) the point. ____ (3) years of service, I've decided to step ____ (4) from the world of espionage. I've done it all. I've been shot ____ (5), chased ____ (6) rooftops, and dropped ____ (7) helicopters more times than I can count. I reckon I'm just getting too old ____ (8) this stuff.

Lately, the idea of a quiet life has taken hold ____ (9) me.

A house ____ (10) the countryside, a garden to take care ____ (11), maybe even a dog. Can you imagine me, James Bond, picking tomatoes and shouting ____ (12) the neighbor's cat to get ____ (13) from my roses? You know what? I think I can! Of course, the idea of settling ____ (14) scares me a little. What if I'm no good ____ (15) these ordinary things? What if danger calls and I get pulled ____ (16) one last mission? I suppose some part of me will always be drawn ____ (17) the thrill of it.

Still, I'm hopeful ____ (18) this next chapter. I've seen enough ____ (19) the world to know that it is worth fighting ____ (20). Please don't try to change my mind, it's time for someone else to step ____ (21) and become your new 007. When you find him – or her – please, keep an eye ____ (22) them ____ (23) all times, the stakes are high in this line of work.

As ____ (24) me, I'll be enjoying retirement, sipping a martini on my porch. Shaken, not stirred.

007

Answer Key: Ageing Agent

Complete the text with the correct prepositions!

Greetings, M,

I know you're not fond of (1) long introductions, so let me get straight to (2) the point. After (3) years of service, I've decided to step away (4) from the world of espionage. I've done it all. I've been shot at (5), chased across/on (6) rooftops, and dropped from (7) helicopters more times than I can count. I reckon I'm just getting too old for (8) this stuff.

Lately, the idea of a quiet life has taken hold of (9) me.

A house in (10) the countryside, a garden to take care of (11), maybe even a dog. Can you imagine me, James Bond, picking tomatoes and shouting at (12) the neighbor's cat to get away (13) from my roses? You know what? I think I can! Of course, the idea of settling down (14) scares me a little. What if I'm no good at (15) these ordinary things? What if danger calls and I get pulled into (16) one last mission? I suppose some part of me will always be drawn to (17) the thrill of it.

Still, I'm hopeful for/about (18) this next chapter. I've seen enough of (19) the world to know that it is worth fighting for (20). Please don't try to change my mind, it's time for someone else to step up/in (21) and become your new 007. When you find him – or her – please, keep an eye on (22) them at (23) all times, the stakes are high in this line of work. As for (24) me,

I'll be enjoying retirement, sipping a martini on my porch. Shaken, not stirred.

007